BDHS Bucs heading to OFSAA

BRADFORD TIMES STAFF

The Bradford Buccaneers St. Girls soccer team out-hustled the St. Peter's Panthers in the GBSSA "AAA" soccer final on May 26, recording a 2-0 win - and earning a trip to OFSAA's AAA Championships in Niagara Falls.

St. Peter's Catholic Secondary School played hard, doing their best to follow coach Laura Gully's exhortations to "be first to the ball, control the ball, take possession."

But everywhere they turned, they met the brick wall of the Bradford District High School Senior team's defense, and the rock-solid net-minding of Emma Kuzmyk.

Offensively, the Buccaneers never stopped pressing - with the first goal by Grade 10 student Kaitlyn Mix in the first half, and a goal by Grade 9 student Mackenzie Walker in the second.

It was the younger players on the Varsity squad who led the way, according to goalie Kuzmyk. "I think it was our Juniors, to be honest," she said after the match. "This year our Juniors really helped us out. They were all-stars."

Coach Chelsea Lazar agreed. "These girls have worked their butts off. They didn't miss a practice." And the hard work paid off, with an undefeated season in which the Seniors scored 42 goals, and only had three goals against.

The Bradford win was a disappointment for the Panthers, who had hoped to make it five GBSSA titles in a row, but for the Bucs, there was heartfelt satisfaction as they head to OFSAA for "the first time in a long time," Lazar said.

RBC moves forward with branch closure

MIRIAM KING
Bradford Times

On June 3, the RBC branch in downtown Bradford will be closing - its business "merged" with the newer branch at the west end of town, at 539 Holland St. West.

A meeting to help customers "transition" from the old to the new was held May 11 at the west branch, attended by a handful of residents and downtown business owners, including Councillor Peter Dykile Jr.

"You're among friends," said Wayne Brakebeer, RBC community manager for the past five years, noting that RBC has been serving the Bradford community for 61 years.

"We've made a lot of great relationships, helped a lot of families," he said, promising that staff will continue to focus on customer service, through the transition. "They know you, they appreciate your business."

He also promised that RBC will continue to play a role in the community, hosting a Family Skate on Family Day, supporting organizations that include Minor Hockey, the Curling Club, and CHATS. "It makes the bank a lot more than just numbers."

Brakebeer acknowledged that the closure of the branch at 26 Holland St. East means a change for some long-time customers - "It's what it is; it's not the best," he admitted - but said that the consolidation would result in a "better Royal Bank" while staff would help each client find solutions, which could include public transit, online and telephone banking, even mobile banking that makes "house calls" for some services.

"When the decision was first communicated that we would be merging the two banks, there was some noise," said Stella Partipilo, regional vice president, but staff have been working to help clients with the transition. "You are our first priority."

Partipilo said that the merger "puts all of our strength here, where our clients are moving to." She cited statistics, claiming that the number of clients using the downtown branch at 26 Holland St. East has been declining by 25% annually, for several years.

But Councillor Dykile told Partipilo that his council was "disappointed" by the decision to close the downtown branch, reminding her that six years ago, when the west branch was first proposed, councillors were told there was enough business in town to support two branches. He asked if the ATMs, at least, would remain in the downtown core.

Partipilo said the ATMs would remain as long as RBC owns the building - but that the building is up for sale. She suggested that RBC might negotiate to keep the automated telling machines in place, or "look to an alternate location."

In fact, only one of the ATM machines will remain open when the branch closes.

Dykile also pointed out that not every transaction can be handled electronically. "Some people still need coins," he said.

Long-time client Jake Winter told Partipilo that the decision was an inconvenience to seniors, and to ranch farmers. "You've catered to the new subdivision development in town, leaving us at the other end short-changed."

But Brakebeer and Partipilo said that banking habits have already changed, with farmers and other clients already using the west branch when they come into town, or banking where they work. "For most of our clients, this is a feasible choice - not their best choice, but a feasible choice," Partipilo said, noting that the west branch also offers longer hours for banking, and is open on Saturdays.

For those travelling from the east end of town, she acknowledged, it could be quicker to bank in Newmarket than to struggle through seven sets of lights.

"I don't know what the downtown of Bradford will become," said Brakebeer. Town council is making efforts to revitalize the area, he noted. "It will happen. It will just take some time," but an RBC branch won't be part of it, he said.

Point of View

Welcoming our visitors

The news this week has been full of Premier Kathleen Wynne's apology to the province's Indigenous people, for the systemic racism and abuse of the residential schools.

Wynne has also made a commitment, through 26 new initiatives, to ensure this hidden chapter of Canadian history is included in the school curriculum, to provide mental health supports and to build a better justice system, through a $250 million investment over the next three years.

It's a good start, but there has to be follow-through – because ensuring that Ontario's First Nations people have access to clean water, healthy and adequate housing, nutritious food, a positive education, and job opportunities will benefit all Ontarians, and all Canadians.

First Nations have always insisted that "We are all Treaty People." That is, it wasn't only Aboriginal people that signed the treaties, but also the colonizing governments and representatives of those who settled in Canada; it's time we all started to live up to our responsibilities.

It's time that we started levelling the playing field, and with all our talk of multiculturalism and diversity, started to respect the cultures of our first peoples.

We in Bradford West Gwillimbury have a unique opportunity to extend a hand of friendship. A group of young students from Mishkeegogamang First Nations' Missabay Elementary School are visiting southern Ontario for the first time. They are staying in the area, as an introduction to the world outside of their northern community, which is located near Pickle Lake – approximately 1,200 km north of Toronto. And on Friday, May 3, at 6:30 p.m., their hosts and Green Valley Alliance Church are holding a welcoming barbecue at the church, 758 Simcoe Rd.

The hope is that members of the community, especially youth, will come out to share an evening with the young visitors, perhaps strike up new friendships, and begin to build links between North, and South.

Letters to the Editor

SAFETY FIRST ON SIMCOE ROAD

To the editor: Most of Bradford's residents have probably noticed the major construction project underway on Simcoe Road.

As local residents, we have suffered the traffic delays and the noise, the dust and the mud. Along with the poor road conditions that existed before construction, we have endured low and slow water pressure – and now, new road depressions and pot holes.

We have noticed the reduced efficiency of construction output and have condoned the increased amount of dust created by the daily commuters who have been asked to abide by the posted detours, but who continue to insist on using the route.

So what does this all mean? Well, it means that the increased traffic flow on the road, and the delay in construction caused by the flow, brings more dust into our homes' furnaces and air vents, more mud onto our driveways and lawns, more inconvenience, and risk of danger to construction workers and Town officials.

We residents know personally all of the homeowners on Simcoe Road, as well as those who reside on Golfview Blvd., but we've seen that most of the vehicles are NOT local to this part of the Town. We see impatient drivers complaining to the crew flag persons, honking their horns, performing U-turns and speeding.

Those signs that the flag people courageously hold to direct traffic say SLOW and STOP not SPEED.

It's not enough that all the workers not only need to endure the heat and humidity, the rain and wind, cold and snow, but they also need to be extra-vigilant that they don't get injured by impatient motorists – or worse still, injure a motorist with their large equipment.

We the local residents still walk our dogs and go to our mail boxes, jog or ride our bicycles, drive to our jobs and to buy groceries.

If you the commuter find yourself in an emergency scenario, please do use the road. If you must use the route for your daily commute, please be more respectful of the workers, a little more safety-minded about the school children, and a little more thoughtful towards the locals.

And for those Bradfortites that are not aware of the schedule, the construction is slated to continue well into the fall of 2017. Might be a good idea to now contemplate an alternate route, especially for the winter months.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated consideration.

100 years young

MURIAN KING/BRADFORD TIMES

Sadie Victoria Moore celebrated a milestone at Bradford Valley Care Community on May 24 - her 100th birthday. The Bradford resident celebrated with members of her family, including her son Bill, and various nieces, nephews and grandnieces. Bradford West Gwillimbury Councillor Ron Orr represented the town, presenting a certificate to one of its oldest residents, who needed a little help to blow out the candles. Sadie, who was married to the late Howard Moore, has two grandchildren, and four great grandchildren. In all her 100 years, "she never drove a car," said daughter-in-law Charlotte Moore. "She walked everywhere" - which could be part of the secret to a long life.

NOTICE: South East Arterial Road Pre-Construction

WHAT:

The South East Arterial Road (SEAR) is to be located from the intersection of Simcoe Road and Luxury Avenue to the intersection of Holland Street and Dissette Street. (see map below)

The project will involve demolition of buildings located at 169 Simcoe Road & 14 Bridge Street, the construction of sanitary force mains, four culverts and storm sewers, a new signalized intersection at Simcoe/Luxury/SEAR, new connection of Morris Rd to the SEAR, street lighting, concrete sidewalk and multi-use path, landscaping, in addition to other infrastructure elements.

WHEN:

Some minor activities have already begun; however, the main construction works are scheduled to commence on May 24, 2016 and are anticipated to end by December 2016. Placement of the final lift of asphalt on the SEAR will be deferred until 2017 and will be completed by July 30, 2017.

Construction may occur at any time between the hours of 7am-7pm Monday to Friday. The contractor is scheduled to carry out night work operations for the completion of the sanitary sewer work at the intersection of Holland/Bridge/Dissette, due to high volume of traffic during daytime hours. The night work hours are from 8:00pm to 6:00am Monday to Friday.

HOW YOU MAY BE AFFECTED:

Access to Morris Road from the north will be temporarily closed. During the construction a detour will be put in place and the access to Morris Road will be relocated to Walker Avenue. Please note that this is only to facilitate the construction and upon completion the access from Walker Ave. to Morris Rd. will be once again closed.

There will be periodic lane restrictions on Simcoe Road over the course of the construction. Traffic control measures will be put in place to help the public through the work zone.

Emergency services including police, fire and ambulance will be notified and will have access to all residents AT ALL TIMES during construction. The school bus provider will also be notified in order for the routes to be adjusted.

We apologize for any inconvenience caused by this necessary construction.

Added to the Wall of Honour

MIRIAM KING
Bradford Times

Alliston's Museum on the Boyne used to be called the South Simcoe Museum. It's a repository for the history, records and artifacts of five South Simcoe municipalities - Adjala-Tosoronto, New Tecumseth, Bradford West Gwillimbury, Innisfil and Essa.

The museum not only preserves local history, it acknowledges local "Heritage Heroes" on a Wall of Honour, individuals who have contributed to the better understanding, promotion and preservation of the area's rich heritage.

This year, the Museum on the Boyne and its board of directors added two names to the Wall of Honour, both from Bradford West Gwillimbury - the late Ron Simpson, long-time member of BWG Town Council; and Dr. David Chambers of Bond Head.

Ron Simpson, a builder, was always willing to share his knowledge of construction techniques and restoration challenges with historical societies and Heritage Committees. A member of both the

Dr. Chambers, recently honoured for his lifetime commitment to heritage, was involved in the Tecumseth LACAC - the precursor to the municipal Heritage Committee - prior to amalgamation, and with local Heritage Commitees. He moved and restored both a 19th Century Orange Hall, and a 19th century schoolhouse, built circa 1855, and has been a passionate protector of heritage structures. Dr. Chambers thanked the Museum and Board for the honour, but stated the credit was his wife, who at the age of 12 assisted him in his restoration projects, and his wife of 54 years, June. It was June who steered Dave Chambers into what was to become "an all-encompassing shared passion. We get untold satisfaction in seeing the fruits of our labours."

He concluded with the hope that his words, and actions, will inspire others to "carry on the important work of cultural heritage preservation."

Celebrating Santissima Trindade

BRADFORD TIMES STAFF

In addition to Ribfest, Youth Music Festivals and Carroffests, the Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury also celebrates several religious festivals, thanks to residents who have brought their traditions, from Portugal and the Azores.

On the weekend of May 20 to 22, the Irmandade de Santissima Trindade (Fellowship of the Holy Trinity) celebrated its festival of the Holy Trinity, beginning on Friday with the blessing of the bread, wine and meat, to be distributed to members. Saturday night saw a celebration at the Portuguese Cultural Centre of Bradford, and on Sunday, this year's Moromos or Hosis, Norbert and Maria Madeiros, organized the procession that began at Holy Martyrs of Japan Catholic Church at noon and, with representatives from other Fraternities from Bradford and Toronto, Bradford West Gwillimbury Mayor Rob Keffler, and the Banda Do Senhor Santo Cristo from Toronto, paraded on several streets before coming back to the church for a special Mass.

In the afternoon, starting at 4 p.m., there was a free dinner for the community at the Portuguese Cultural Centre, and a Bazaar, as the Moromos welcomed all to the festival.

HEARING SCIENCES

Audiology and Hearing Aid Centre

We hear with our brain!!

The ears are just one small part of the hearing system. It is the brain that actually processes the sound that the ear receives. As we age, the filtering ability of the brain begins to diminish making it more difficult to hear in a background of noise and to understand when speech is spoken at a rapid rate or with an accent. Research at the University of Maryland has confirmed that seeing a person who is speaking helps the brain process words faster and more accurately. Three important strategies to assist people in hearing better are: Speak slower, speak clearly and face the listener.

If you are having difficulty, book a hearing test. Hearing aids give your brain dramatic assistance in sorting out speech and makes listening less of a daily struggle.

Earning Points for HCHS students

MIRIAM KING
Bradford Times

Every year for the past 15 years, Holy Trinity Catholic High School students have entered The Learning Partnership's Turning Points Essay competition, which asks students in Grades 6 through 12 to write about a significant event in their lives.

"They have to communicate clearly how it was a 'true turning point' in their life - how they are a different person," says Vincent O'Brien, English Dept. Chair at the Bradford High school.

Every year, O'Brien reads through the school's submissions, and chooses 10 or 12 of the best to send on to Turning Points.

And every year, Holy Trinity students have been among the winners.

This year was no exception, with four of eight top awards in the high school categories going to HCHS. In the Grade 9-10 category, Kristina Cimmarusti won second place, with "The Year of Self," about a key audition for a drama production, that changed her view of herself and her self-identification. Honourable mention went to Sara Kargosh, for "It's A.L.L. Good," her story of being diagnosed with Leukemia at a young age, coming through therapy with the support of family and friends, and with a new appreciation of life.

In the Grade 11-12 category, Allison Procher took second, with "Note to Self" - an essay about her introduction to the world of music while still in elementary school, and how music became the special something set her apart from the crowd. Honourable Mention went to Alessandra Garzon; "Reconstruction in the Rainforest" was about the impact of a mission trip to Ecuador last year, and how it opened her eyes to the needs of the poor South American country.

The wins are especially significant since The Learning Partnership has cut back on the number of awards handed out. In previous years, Turning Points gave out nine awards in each category; that has been reduced to four.

Holy Trinity continues to bring back awards, O'Brien said, because "we've just got great work produced by these students."

There is an editing process. "What I try to let them know is what the strengths are. The 'turning point' has to be clear," he explained - admitting that it can be a challenge for a young person to identify a key moment in their lives.

"I didn't know how big it was until I wrote it down," said Sara Kargosh, whose battle with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia (A.L.L.) was the subject of her essay. But harder than writing it down was reading it, in front of the judges.

"It was really nerve-wracking to read something so personal in front of people you don't know."

Ally Garzon's experience - watching a life or death race to take a pregnant woman suffering from complications from the wilds of the rainforest to a centre where she could receive medical assistance - was also a clear-cut turning point. It wasn't something she expected, but when it happened, she found that it provided clarity to her reasons for getting involved in the mission trip, a tangible reminder that she was making a difference.

Allison Procher found it more difficult to identify her turning point. For her, it was more of a "connect the dots" situation - an exploration of what she admits is a "pretty simple idea", that discovering a love for music, a passion, changed her life. "It's something everyday people can connect with," she said. "I think that's what made the essay powerful."

She added, "I liked writing the Turning Point essay, because it's like writing a formal essay, but you can tell a story."

"It's a personal narrative," said O'Brien. "It's not analysing a book, or research. It's a different kind of writing." He found the young authors "just so honest, so open with their experiences."

to build positive connections between the students from Mishkeegamaing and young people from the South. The community is invited to come out, and welcome the visitors, building ties between North and South.

Electronic Waste Collection at Holy Trinity

BRADFORD TIMES STAFF

Holy Trinity Catholic High School's Green Team was busy, during April - Earth Month - and Catholic Education Week, May 2-6. The team organized a clean-up of the school yard, collected used bicycles and cell phones to be refurbished for the area's guest farm workers, and planted trees.

But they are a just little late with one Earth Month initiative - an Electronics Waste collection.

They didn't want to compete with a local Lions Club, which held its e-Waste collection on May 7, so they made arrangements to bring in a bin later in the month. That bin has now been dropped off and will be in place until June 13 - and the Green Team is hoping the community will come by and drop off unwanted electronics, for proper disposal and recycling. The team will be taking the profits from the recycling, money that will fund future environmental programs at the high

Welcome back, to the Bradford Farmers' Market

MIRIAM KING
Bradford Times

The opening day of the 2016 Bradford Farmers' Market was delayed by one week – and the vendors are grateful.

May 21, during the Victoria Day long weekend, was miserable, wet and cold.

This past Saturday, May 28, was warm, sunny – absolutely perfect market weather.

Bradford West Gwillimbury Mayor Rob Keffer and members of council were joined by York-Simcoe MPP Julia Munro, and Bradford Board of Trade rep Laura Slykhuis as they welcomed back both vendors and shoppers.

"It's been a long winter, and we've been looking forward to this for quite a while," said Mayor Keffer, pointing out that the opening coincides with Ontario Food Week in Bradford West Gwillimbury.

"The right day, the right message to be coming to the Bradford West Gwillimbury Farmers' Market – without a cloud in the sky!" said MPP Munro.

Opening day saw the return of many of last year's vendors, including Lakeview Gardens, MidValley Gardens, Spring Farms, Homestead Eggs, Sweet Handmade Cookies, Sheldon Creek Dairy. Everything Maple and More maple syrup, sauces and dips, as well as several new vendors, like Penville Creek Natural Honey.

While shoppers browsed, Russ Clayton entertained, Kim Armstrong of The Party Circuit created balloon animals for the kids, and volunteers served up carrot cake to celebrate.

The Bradford Farmers' Market will take place every Saturday morning, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., in the parking lot beside the Bradford Public Library, at 425 Holland St. West – with more and more fresh, local produce as the season progresses.

Gloria Pengelly and auctioneer Sam Lee, at the annual Bond Head & District Horticultural Society's Plant Auction. There are trends in gardening, just as there are in music and fashion – and that was apparent at the Bond Head & District Horticultural Society's annual Plant Auction, held at the Danube Seniors Leisure Centre on May 26. Auctioneer Sam Lee couldn't find a bid for some plants, like the giant iris, but bidding was fierce on others. A flowering magnolia, for example, sold for a record $33 – to applause. The auction is a fundraiser for the Bond Head-Bradford garden club, which meets again on Thursday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m., when guest speaker Karl Kohnen of Black Forest Garden Centre talks about Designing a Unique Arrangement. Meetings are held at the Danube Centre, 715 Simcoe Rd.

Support for BDHS Bleacher fundraiser

BRADFORD TIMES STAFF

Bradford District High School's school council is looking for alumni and sponsors to support non-academic projects at the school. This year's project? The purchase of bleachers for the sports field.

The presence of bleachers would increase attendance at outdoor sporting events, and suggested students, would be a great way to boost school spirit – and the school council agreed. It is reaching out to local businesses and the community at large, to partner and provide support. The goal is to raise about $16,000 to purchase and properly install the aluminum and galvanized steel bleachers.

The fundraiser received a huge boost from Laura and Scott Conroy, new owners of the No Frills grocery store in Bradford. The couple took over the store in December, but responded immediately when school council co-chair Anthony Melidoy came knocking. For a $2 donation to the fundraising drive, customers received a key job with a "coin" that allows them to use the store's shopping carts for free – and last week, the Conroys presented a generous cheque to BDHS principal Peter Stone and Melidoy.

To make a donation, contact the school at 905-775-2262, or send a cheque to Bradford District High School, 70 Professor Day Drive, Bradford ON L3Z3B9; indicate the cheque is for "Bleachers." Tax receipts will be provided.

chilly wait in the early dawn, snuggled under a blanket.

Staff members volunteered their time to give back to the community, joined by a small army of community volunteers – volunteers like Doreen Johnston, involved for her fourth year.

"I just think this is such a good service that's done for our community," Johnston said, as she helped direct clients to the different operating rooms, each one decorated with one of Dr. Chai's collections, from Sports memorabilia, to Hollywood Stars.

The one-day event also had the support of companies and corporations like Sunstar G.U.M. Products, AcmeDent Corporation, and Patterson Dental, that provided supplies at no cost, and helped ensure "Smiles are Free."

And there were plenty of smiles, as the clients expressed their appreciation for the gift of dental health. A total of 106 patients received free services valued at $27,352 in a single day – bringing the 6 year total to over $160,000.

MIRIAM KING/BRADFORD TIMES

Runners start the 10K race, at the Upper Canada Mall Run for Easter Seals in Newmarket on May 29.

MIRIAM KING/BRADFORD TIMES

Joe Persechini, in outrageous retro vig, congratulates Jose Carvalho, winner of the 5K Run.

Running for Easter Seals kids

MIRIAM KING
Bradford Times

Forty years ago, in 1976, a handful of fitness enthusiasts, aided training with Joe Persechini ran from Newmarket north on Yonge St., all the way to Bradford. It was the first "Persechini Run" for children with physical disabilities, and raised about $2,000 to cover the costs of assistive devices, braces and wheelchairs, and summer camp programs.

Now, 40 years later, the Upper Canada Mall Run for Easter Seals founded by Joe Persechini attracts hundreds of participants for the 5 and 10K Runs, and 5K Walk, and has raised more than $3 million for Easter Seals.

The theme of this year's Run/Walk, held Sunday at Riverwalk Commons in Newmarket, was "Keepin' it Retro" - and race founder, Joe Persechini was on hand, as he has been for every run, this time wearing a huge retro wig. He was joined by 2016 Easter Seals Ambassador, 11-year-old AJ Kleinman.

Runners and walkers braved temperatures that soared into the mid 20s by the time the first run got underway, at 8 a.m. Dressed in shades of lime green, neon yellow and hot pink, runners set a blistering pace - with Bradford brothers Jose and Fernando Carvalho leading the way, Jose in the 5K, and Fernando in the 10K.

Runners came from across York Region and South Simcoe, raising funds that will stay within the York-South Simcoe area, providing opportunities for Easter Seals kids.

Among those lending support to the event were East

Gwillimbury Mayor Virginia Hackson, Newmarket Councilor Dave Kirwin - who ran the route, as he has done for the past 40 years - and Newmarket Mayor Tony Van Bynen.

Van Bynen praised Persechini's "level of commitment and dedication," in promoting the fundraiser over the decades. He added, "I'm looking forward to the next 20, because we all know 60 is the new 40."

Van Bynen noted that the Easter Seals "has brought us all together, as a group of human beings who want to make a positive difference in the lives of someone else." "Everyone comes from different areas to support us," said Persechini. "It's about the kids."

Big Bike needs support to keep rolling

BRADFORD TIMES STAFF

The Big Bike - the only bicycle built for 29, plus a driver - will be coming to Bradford on June 17, a fundraiser for the Heart & Stroke Foundation.

But it's in trouble. So far, only three teams have registered for the Ride, and Zehrs will be hosting an all-day fundraising barbecue, but organizer Julia Holt of the Heart & Stroke Foundation is worried. She's still hoping to hear from other companies, interested in fielding a team or making a donation for a tax receipt, but time is running out.

The Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury, St. Louis Bar &

Grill and Zehrs are registered for the Ride, and Zehrs will be hosting an all-day fundraising barbecue, but organizer Julia Holt of the Heart & Stroke Foundation is worried. She's still hoping to hear from other companies, interested in fielding a team or making a donation for a tax receipt, but time is running out.

The Big Bike has been a tradition in Bradford, generating not only funds for Heart & Stroke, but team spirit - and greater awareness, as the bike heads out on aerial roads, with its police escort.

There's no need for a team to fill every seat. In the past, smaller teams have been combined, or augmented with "ringers" - volunteers, including students looking for community hours, who step up to help out.

Anyone interested in riding the Big Bike, making a donation, or volunteering is asked to contact Julia Holt at jholt@hsf.on.ca or 905-709-4899.

*They say there is a reason
They say that time will heal
But neither time nor reason
Will change the way we feel.
For no-one knows the heartache
That lies behind our smiles
No one knows how many times
We have broke down and cried
We want to tell you something
So there won't be any doubt
You are so wonderful to think of
But so hard to be without.*

Love Always, Dad, Mom, Angela, Frank, Rob, Tanya and their families

May the flowers fill your heart with beauty,
May hope forever wipe away your tears,
And, above all, may silence make you strong.

MIRIAM KING/BRADFORD TIMES

Visitors to this year's Schomberg Agricultural Spring Fair enjoyed the midway rides, demolition derby, a Horse Pull on Saturday afternoon, Tractor pull on Sunday, live music on the main stage, wandering entertainers and perfect weather. There were Livestock shows, Mutt Shows, Baby Shows, and a whole arena full of Homcraft exhibits and school displays. And if visitors needed to cool down, they could choose water, fresh-squeezed lemonade, ice cream or the beer garden.

Raising funds for Trinity's Bell Tower

MIRIAM KING/BRADFORD TIMES

Corrine Williams, left, and Wendi Williams dressed up for the elegant Tulip Time Tea at Trinity Anglican Church in Bradford on May 28. Trinity Anglican Church in Bradford is fundraising to raise the money for repairs to its historic bell tower. The church bell has been silent for years, ever since engineers found that the tower had deteriorated to the point where safety was a concern. The interior was braced with 2x4s, and the fundraising began – with the goal of raising the $65,000 needed to effect the repairs. There have been generous donations from members of the community, and a series of church fundraisers – including the Tulip Time Tea – with the result that the church has raised $51,000, enough to allow the repairs to go ahead, with the approval of the Diocese, starting in July. The fundraising efforts will continue, including a "Help Top It Up" raffle for a gift basket, for the remaining $14,000.
